WHAT WAS DONE IN BOTH HOUSES YESTERDAY. McCook. The conference report on the deficiency bill, showing twenty-three Senate amendments to which the House refused to agree, was submitted. The Senate insisted and reappointed its conferees. A resolution by Mr. Sewell, directing the committee on fish and fisheries to sit during the recess, was adopted. Bills granting pensions to the wid-ows of Commodore Watson, Gen. Ord and Gen. Frank P. Blair, and a bill to appoint Gen. Averill a colonel and place him on the retired list, were passed. The postal telegraph bill was taken up, and after a speech by Mr. Hill postponed until the second Monday in December. The bill to establish a bureau of navigation was passed. The McGarrahan bill was indefinitely postponed. The Senate in executive session took action on several nominations, as mentioned elsewhere. The House having got into a wrangle on the Mexican pensions bill, failed to adjourn Thursday evening, but took a recess from 6:20 p. m. that day until 10 o'clock yesterday morning. On reassembling at that hour, Mr. Hosecrans' conference report on the bill to consolidate the bureau of military instice, and the corps of judge advector was tary justice and the corps of judge advocates was agreed to, and the rest of the day, until nearly 5 o'clock, except a few minutes devoted to the deficiency bill, was spent in filibustering against the Mexican pension bill. The conference report on the legislative, judicial and executive appropriation was reported by Mr. Holman at the session last night, and after a long discussion was agreed to. The conferees reported an agreement reached upon all but twenty-six of the 233 Senate amendments, the principal points of disagreement being with relation to the payment of Senators clerks, the clause prohibiting the printing of speeches in the Congressional Record not actually delivered in one of the houses, and the proposition to increase the clerical force in the Pension office. A determined effort was made to get the House to recode these amendments. The conference report on the persons found using his bottles of the following description: I caution all persons not to sell or buy or fill any of my bottles marked as herein described, as I will enforce the law against all such persons. > The Senate. MR. LOGAN DENIES BEING A LAND GRABBER.

Shortly after the Senate had been called to order Mr. Logan rose and said: Mr. President.-I deem it due to my friends that I call attention to certain statements that I find gressional Record of the 27th of June.

First. I am set down in a list of what is termed 'land grabbers" as having in some mysterious way accumulated the vast amount of 80,000 acres of land. This statement is utterly without foundation in fact. The New York Herald of the 29th of Md., of hemorrhage of the lungs. Mrs. Ammen, whose maiden name was Atocha, was well-known in this city, and leaves a family of several small children.

June adds thirty thousand head of cattle. I wish this were true, but there is no foundation for the statement. I would take no notice of this, however, were it not for the charge that follows. Second. The person who made the statement, after finding that it was untrue, instead of doing justice to one against whom he might, by his erroneous statement, have done an injury, proceeded to put another false statement on record, as follows: "I might have said to the deluded soldiers of this land: 'What do you think of a great Senator who in his greed to absorb the territory which belongs to the actual settlers in a land that was made for independent freeholders and small farmers. What do you think of a man who poses as a statesman and a patriot, as the friend par excellence of the soldier and who, under the cover of his brother-in-law, went to New Mexico and tried to pre-empt the most valuable land lying along her streams, and was only estopped by the public officer finding out that it belonged to another class which he professes the utmost friendship for, and who, from his manner and appearance, rumor says, has their blood in his veins, tried to steal from his own land [great laughter and applause on the demo-cratic side], taking from the unfortunate savage who was unable to protect himself until an honest Secretary of the Interior went there with the surveyor and took back the land for the Zunis." [Renewed laughter and applause.]

Now, Mr. President, this statement is, so far as I am concerned, or any one else, of whom I have any knowledge, maliciously false. Mr. Logan proceeded to explain at length the whole transaction out of which the report grew. He (Logan's son-in-law), and Mr. Stout, entered home-steads near the Zuni reservation, after making in-quiry, and being officially informed that it was subject to entry. Senator Logan had read a letter from the Commissioner of the Land Office to the parties who applied to enter the land, informing them that entry would be canceled. Senator Logan next had read letters from Major Tucker and Capt. Lawton, showing that he had nothing whatever to do with the entry, and also had read a letter from Secretary Teller to the effect that in the whole matter no wrong to the Indians was contemplated. Senator Logan demonstrated that the transaction was in-CLEVELAND IN THE LEAD-HOPES OF THE LESSER | nocent of any wrong; that it had the countenance

On motion of Mr. Cullom, the Senate took up the bill to establish a commission to regulate interbase their hopes upon the likelihood that neither state commerce. It provides for the appointment of a commission, to consist of five commissioners, at a salary of $7,500 each, who shall have superviscommerce between the states, and the methods of operating railroad companies engaged in interstate commerce. Sixty thousand dollars is appropriated for the purposes of the commission for its first year's operation.

line of senatorial decorum confined within an executive session. After acting upon the nomination of John T. The joke was in the pretense that the grave Senators thought that a democratic Senator had accepted office from a republican administration. MINOR NOTES. The Senate on Thursday evening passed the bill to forfeit the unearned lands granted to the Atlantic and Pacific railroad company, after debate.

The conference report on the "Fourth of July claims" bill was presented in the House Thursday evening and agreed to. Senators Fair and Jones, of Nevada, are going to Chicago to-night. A close count of the Senators showed to-day that including those in conference, there were several more than a quorum on hand, though there was no time when a quorum was present in the chamber.

Prospect of Adjournment Monday. THE DEAD-LOCK ON THE LEGISLATIVE BILL-THE OTHER APPROPRIATION BILLS.

The prospects seem to be this morning that the appropriation bills will be disposed of in some manner between this and Sunday morning. The principal difficulty to be met is the question of paying Senators' clerks, and the prospects are that it will result in a failure of the legislative bill to pass. The House is very determined in its opposition, and members of the Senate committee say that the Senate will not recede from its position. It is possible that they may refuse to adjourn unless the House yields the point, but the opinion prevails that they will simply let the bill go over until December, the present appropriation being continued meanwhile. The House conferees think the matter will be settled in this way. The sundry civil bill presents some difficult questions, but Mr. Holman says that everything can be | that class of voters are not opposed to the Gover-

Mr. Randall says he thinks by continuing the session all night everything can be disposed of by morning, and they will then adjourn until Monday to give the enrolling clerk time to catch up. On Monday they will meet to approve the enrollment and then adjourn finally.

UNCERTAINTY AT CHICAGO. Effect of Tilden's Absolute Declination—The War on Cleveland—Bayard and McDonald—The Butler Breeze—

Special Dispatch to THE EVENING STAR. CHICAGO, July 5 .- Compared to the closely drawn lines in the republican field the Saturday morning before the convention there is marked uncertainty everywhere. Conviction seems to be spreading that Tilden will not accept the nomination no that Tilden will not accept the nomination no date for President the delegates are greatly at sea, matter how tendered. Mr. Manning claims to have and it may be said their vote as a unit will be cast absolute authority to that effect, and it has damp- for whatever name New York unanimously preened the ardor not a little of the Texans and Californians who are still instructed for Tilden. With the latter out of the way, the only organization here thus far is in the interest of Governor Cleveland. The indications are strong that he is Tilden's legatee, but it is an open question at present as to whether he can secure a majority of the New York

CLEVELAND AND THE NEW YORK DELEGATION. His leaders do not claim more than out 40 of the 72 delegates, and the majority of four are not, it is said, to be absolutely relied on. The New York delegation is, therefore, the pivotal one around which all of the others are swinging, and until it is shown what they will do, no movements will be the erection of an art hall and live stock sheds. undertaken by other delegates. It does not seem probable that at the conference of the New York delegation called for this evening, there will be any vote taken for there will be several absentees.

BAYARD AND M'DONALD. at Glenwood Springs, Col. Registers of the land offie—James W. Ross, of Colorado, at Glenwood McDonald are most prominently named. Flower, Next to the Cleveland situation, Bayard and tablishment the energetic and capable business whose lithographs are plastered over the city, is and publishing bureau of the Cotton Centennial not regarded seriously by anybody. Henry Watterson is supporting McDonald, but mainly insisting that the nomination shall not go east. He does not believe that Cleveland can carry New York, but admits that if the Greeley experiment had been forgotten Gen. Butler would stand a very good chance for the nomination. THE BUTLER BOOM.

The southern delegates here answer that by saying that if Butler should be nominated their states will vote for Blaine. The fact is there is a good deal of a squallish feeling among the old-time democrats over Butler's presence in the convention. They think he is a good enough democrat in Massa-chusetts, but a little out of place in a national convention. Still, they don't ignore his strength. The demonstration to be given on his arrival tonight will be a very large one. It is estimated that there will be twelve thousand men in the procession, mainly composed of labor and trade organizations.

Ex-Mayor Prince of the Massachusetts delegation created some surprise to-day by stating that he did not believe that the delegation would vote for Butler after the first ballot. Mr. Palmer, editor of the Boston Globe, and the leading Butler manager, says Mr. Prince is mistaken, and adds that if Cleveland is out of the way Butler will stand a good chance. No one else out of the Butler camp seems to share such hopes.
Butler's boom is certainly noisy, but to outsiders more picturesque than powerful.

SAYS TILDEN IS NOT POR CLEVELAND. Chairman Barnum, who is fresh from conferences with Tilden, also says that the latter will not accept a nomination by acclamation. He also intimates most conclusively that Tilden does not favor Cleveland's nomination. TAMMANY'S WAR ON CLEVELAND. The advance guard of Tammany has arrived and begun its warfare on Cleveland. "I am Cleveland's friend," said Gen. Spinola, one of them, "and I think I made him the nominee for governor, but I do not think he could carry New York as the candidate for President. His actions as governor have not been such as to make him a strong candidate. Every labor organization in the state has wheeled into line against him. One of the delegates from our state, who has 1,200 men in Belknap, of Porterville, Cal., to be agent for the Indians of the Tule river agency, in California. Wm. A. Newell, of Newark, N. J., to be an Indian inspector. Edward S. Butler, to be register of the inspector. Edward S. Butler, to be register of the charged with having made a pilgrimage charged with having made a pilgrimage through New York for the purpose of working upon anti-Cleveland labor meetings, de-clared that the labor vote would be cast solidly against the governor, on account of his veto of the five-cent-fare bill. "He is a weak candidate," said register of the land office at Boise City, Idaho. A batch of army promotions and appointments was also confirmed, as was also a number of postmascould have pulled his candidate through. The laboring people and the Irish Catholics are all against him."

THE CLEVELAND MEN DECLARE that there is no foundation for the claim that the laboring people opposed Cleveland, and that the opposition did not in fact exist. "As a positive denial of Tammany's claim that the labor organizations are opposed to the governor," said Commissioner of Labor Statistics Peck, "I can say to you that the three most prominent members of their organizations in New York are here for him. David Healy is secretary of the labor commission by the appointment of Gov. Cleveland at the request of the labor organizations. He was a member of the legislature, and introduced the bill creating the commission. For years he was the executive officer of the executive committee of the national labor organization; James Hooley was the only member of the last assembly who was elected as a distinctive labor man. He is here for Cleveland. Walter N. Thayer, the president of the State Trades' assembly, is also here for the governor. I claim they are better judges of the sentiment of the people they represent than Tammany hall politicians, and they say opposed to Cleveland. There is no reason why they should oppose him, and they do not. He gave his five best appointments to Irish Catholics. Ex-United States Senator Kernan is already here for him. I think they can say authoritatively what most interesting throughout. The Rev. Dr. Hall, position the Irish Catholics will take. Besides of New York, conducted the devotional service. that, Mr. Healy is a prominent member of the land league, and is an Irish Catholic. When Governor Cleveland presided over a preside over so important and interesting a reland league meeting in Buffalo he expressed senti- union of men from all quarters of the globe, claimments that are universally approved by the land ing scotch and Irsh descent. The history of British against Cleveland. The night after the Saratoga convention the treasurer of that organization sent Cleveland word that if he was nominated Tammany would raise $100,000 of the campaign fund." THE TARIFF ISSUE-AN AGGRESSIVE PLANE DE-

MANDED.

Next to the question of candidates the tariff plank of the platform is most discussed. Leaving democrats fully appreciate the importance of meeting the protective feature of the republican platform with resolutions of no uncertain sound. The day for "glittering generalities," they admit, has passed. Not only the west and the south, but the east, are forcing this issue upon the convention. Delegates from the latter section say that in the manufacturing states of Massachusetts, New York manufacturing states of Massachusetts, New York and Connecticut the people are ripe for tariff reform. These, they maintain, are the doubtful states in the coming election. With them success can only be secured upon a liberal tariff platform. "You cannot," they claim, "get the votes of Ohio upon a wool plank that will outdo republican promises, nor those of Pennsylvania upon a platform more reassuring to their iron men than that of the republicans;" and yet there are Ohio democrats here who are agitating for the restoration of the slight reduction made by the last Congress on the old wool duty, and urging this convention to cover slight reduction made by the last Congress on the old wool duty, and urging this convention to cover a revision that will meet the demand for the restoration of this duty made by the republican party here a month ago. Some eighty manufacturers, employing over 15,000 men, and representing New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Connecticut, have prepared a memorial to the convention urging the following features of tariff reform:

First. The abolition of all duties on raw materials in order that we may compete in home and foreign in order that we may compete in home and foreign markets with other manufacturing nations, not one of whom taxes raw materials Second. The adjustment of the tariff so that manufacturers approaching nearest the crude state will pay the lowest rate, and manufacturers that will pay the lowest rate, and manufacturers that Mave further advanced, requiring more skill and labor, will pay the higher rates of duties.

Every effort will be made to construct the committee on resolutions from the best men in the delegations, so that the tariff may be known as the "wisdom plank" of the platform. The experiment of "a tariff for revenue only," tried at St. Louis in 76 and Cincinnati in '80, will not be repeated here. The important little word "only" will at least be omitted, and some crafty phrase put in its place, probably, to mean at least "incidental protection," under cover of a great demand for "revenue reform."

Concressmen Morrison and Hurd, Manton Marble. Congressmen Morrison and Hurd, Manton Marble, the author of the St. Louis platform of 1876, and Watterson were all in conference this morning on the situation. They fear a repetition of the trouble in the Illinois convention over the tariff plank and admit that the situation is somewhat serfous.

Special Dispatch to THE EVENING STAR. New York, July 5 .- An industrious effort is being made just now to give a new impetus to the Cleveland boom by the circulation of the report that Gov. Cleveland has conciliated Boss McLaughlin, of the Kings county democracy, by giving Ed. Toohill, a henchman of McLaughlin, the office of port warden; and further that Tilden has written a letter to a New York delegate to the Chicago con-vention making Cleveland his political legatee and recommending him to the favor of the convention. John Kelly's organ, the New York Star, puts a quietus upon the last report by saying that "It is enabled to state, most positively and authoritatively, that no such letter has been written." The Star adds: "If Mr. Tilden could be induced to proffer any formal advice in the premises, we do not think it would be at all welcome or hopeful to the reck-less clique of Cleveland boomers."
